Sharp / Technology Ventures Website + Visual Identity Design

Sharp Technology Ventures was created to leverage opportunities to develop technologies which have implications beyond Sharp Corporation's products or are appropriate for products or markets that fall outside Sharp's business strategy. Sharp Technology Ventures focuses on business development of intellectual property developed at Sharp Laboratories of America or with other Sharp entities.

We were in charge of creating a brand identity, positioning, and website which would announce this new company to the world.

THX / Brand Collateral Design

THX wanted to broaden understanding that they are “not just the movie trailer”, but serve the home theater, DVD, car audio, pro studio, and games market

Brand consistency was achieved through a variety of tools, including graphic elements, photographic style, typographic, form factor, logo placement, color, texture, and tone.

These were all key considerations in developing the new launch the THX brand, as well as the collateral system for each market segment.
